19 Confirmation of contracts and authentication and execution of documents

- (1) In so far as the formalities of making, varying or discharging a contract are concerned, a person acting under the express or implied authority of an incorporated association may make, vary or discharge a contract in the name of or on behalf of the incorporated association in the same manner as if that contract were made, varied or discharged by a natural person.
- (2) The making, variation or discharging of a contract in accordance with subsection (1) is effectual in law and binds the incorporated association and other parties to the contract.
- (3) A contract or other document executed or purporting to have been executed under the common seal of an incorporated association is not invalid by reason only that a person attesting the affixing of the common seal was in any way, whether directly or indirectly, interested in that contract or other document or in the matter to which that contract or other document relates.

- (4) This section does not prevent an incorporated association from making, varying or discharging a contract under its common seal.
- (5) This section does not affect the operation of a law that requires some consent or sanction to be obtained, or some procedure to be complied with, in relation to the making, variation or discharge of a contract.
- (6) A document or proceeding requiring authentication by an incorporated association may be authenticated by the signature of the public officer of the incorporated association and need not be authenticated under the common seal of the incorporated association.
- (7) An incorporated association may, by writing under its common seal, empower a person, either generally or in respect of a specified matter or specified matters, as its agent or attorney to execute deeds on its behalf, and a deed signed by such an agent or attorney on behalf of the incorporated association and under his seal binds the incorporated association and has the same effect as if it were under the common seal of the incorporated association.
- (8) The authority of an agent or attorney empowered pursuant to subsection (7), as between the incorporated association and a person dealing with him continues during the period (if any) mentioned in the instrument conferring the authority or, if no period is so mentioned, until notice of the revocation or termination of his authority has been given to the person dealing with him.

20 Ratification of contracts made before incorporation of association

(1) In this section—

- (a) a reference to a non-existent incorporated association purporting to enter into a contract shall be construed as a reference to—
 - (i) a person executing a contract in the name of an incorporated association, where no such incorporated association exists; or
 - (ii) a person purporting to enter into a contract as agent or trustee for a proposed incorporated association;
- (b) a reference to a person who purports to execute a contract on behalf of a non-existent incorporated association shall be construed as a reference to a person who executes a contract or purports to enter into a contract as mentioned in subparagraph (i) or (ii) of paragraph (a);
- (c) a reference, in relation to the purported entry into a contract by a non-existent incorporated association, to the incorporation of the association shall be construed as a reference to—
 - (i) where a person has executed a contract in the name of an incorporated association and no such incorporated association exists—the incorporation of an association that, having regard to all the circumstances, is reasonably identifiable with the incorporated association in the name of which the person executed the contract; or

- (ii) where a person has purported to enter into a contract as agent or trustee for a proposed incorporated association—the incorporation of an association that, having regard to all the circumstances, is reasonably identifiable with the proposed incorporated association.

(2) Where—

- (a) a non-existent incorporated association purports to enter into a contract; and
- (b) the association is incorporated within a reasonable time after the contract is purported to be entered into—the incorporated association may, within a reasonable time after it is incorporated, ratify the contract.

- (3) Where an incorporated association ratifies a contract as provided by subsection (2), the incorporated association is bound by, and entitled to the benefit of, that contract as if the association had been incorporated before the contract was entered into and had been party to that contract.

(4) Where a non-existent incorporated association purports to enter into a contract and—

- (a) the association is not incorporated within a reasonable time after the contract is purported to be entered into; or
- (b) the association is incorporated within such a reasonable time but does not ratify the contract within a reasonable time after the association is incorporated—the other party or each of the other parties to the contract may, subject to subsections (6) and (9), recover from the person or any one or more of the persons who purported to execute the contract on behalf of the non-existent incorporated association an amount of damages equivalent to the amount of damages for which that party could have obtained a judgment against the incorporated association if—

- (c) where the association has not been incorporated as mentioned in paragraph (a)—the association had been incorporated and had ratified the contract as provided by subsection (2); or
- (d) where the association has been incorporated as mentioned in paragraph (b)—the incorporated association had ratified the contract as provided by subsection (2)— and the contract had been discharged by reason of a breach of the contract constituted by the refusal or failure of the incorporated association to perform any obligations under the contract.

(5) Where—

- (a) proceedings are brought to recover damages under subsection (4) in relation to a contract purported to be entered into by a non-existent incorporated association; and
- (b) the association has been incorporated—the court in which the proceedings are brought may, if it thinks it just and equitable to do so, make either or both of the following orders—

- (c) an order directing the incorporated association to transfer or pay to any party to the contract who is named in the order, any property, or an amount not exceeding the value of any benefit, received by the incorporated association as a result of the contract;

- (d) an order that the incorporated association pay the whole or a specified portion of any damages that, in those proceedings, the defendant has been, or is, found liable to pay.
- (6) Where, in proceedings to recover damages under subsection (4) in relation to a contract purported to be entered into by a non-existent incorporated association, the court in which the proceedings are brought makes an order under paragraph (c) of subsection (5), the court may refuse to award any damages in the proceedings or may award an amount of damages that is less than the amount that the court would have awarded if the order had not been made.
- (7) Where—
- (a) a non-existent incorporated association purports to enter into a contract;
 - (b) the association is incorporated and ratifies the contract as provided by subsection (2);
 - (c) the contract is discharged by a breach of the contract constituted by a refusal or failure of the incorporated association to perform all or any of its obligations under the contract; and
 - (d) the other party or any one or more of the other parties to the contract brings or bring proceedings against the incorporated association for damages for breach of the contract—

the court in which the proceedings are brought may, subject to subsection (9), if it thinks it just and equitable to do so, order the person or any one or more of the persons who purported to execute the contract on behalf of the incorporated association to pay to the person or persons by whom the proceedings are brought the whole or a specified portion of any damages that the incorporated association has been, or is, found liable to pay to the person or persons by whom the proceedings are brought.

- (8) Where a person purports, whether alone or together with another person or other persons, to execute a contract on behalf of a non-existent incorporated association, the other party to the contract, or any of the other parties to the contract, may, by writing signed by that party, consent to the first-mentioned person being exempted from any liability in relation to the contract.
- (9) Where a person has, as provided by subsection (8), consented to another person being exempted from liability in relation to a contract that the other person purported to execute on behalf of a non-existent incorporated association—
- (a) notwithstanding subsection (4), that first-mentioned person is not entitled to recover damages from that other person in relation to that contract; and
 - (b) a court shall not, in proceedings under subsection (7), order that other person to pay to the first-mentioned person any damages, or any proportion of the damages, that the incorporated association has been, or may be, found liable to pay to that first-mentioned person.
- (10) If—
- (a) a non-existent incorporated association purports to enter into a contract;
 - (b) the association is incorporated; and
 - (c) the incorporated association and the other party or other parties to the contract enter into a contract in substitution for the first-mentioned contract—

any liabilities to which the person who purported to execute the first-mentioned contract on behalf of the non-existent incorporated association is subject under this section in relation to the first-mentioned contract (including liabilities under an order made by a court under this section) are, by force of this subsection, deemed to be discharged.

- (11) Any rights or liabilities of a person under this section (including rights or liabilities under an order made by a court under this section) in relation to a contract are in substitution for any rights that the person would have, or any liabilities to which the person would be subject, as the case may be, apart from this section, in relation to the contract.
- (12) Where—
- (a) a person purports to enter into a contract as trustee for a proposed incorporated association; and
 - (b) the association is incorporated within a reasonable time after the person purports to enter into the contract but does not ratify the contract within a reasonable time after the association is incorporated—
- then, notwithstanding any rule of law or equity, the trustee does not have any right of indemnity against the incorporated association in respect of the contract.
- (13) For the purposes of this section, a contract may be ratified by an incorporated association in the same manner as a contract may be made by an incorporated association under section 19 and the provisions of section 19 have effect as if—

- (a) the references in that section to making a contract were references to ratifying a contract; and
 - (b) the reference in subsection (3) of that section to a contract executed, or purporting to have been executed, under the common seal of an incorporated association were a reference to a contract ratified, or purporting to have been ratified, under the common seal of an incorporated association.
