PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA ANNUAL REPORT 2014

Who are Project Hope Horse Welfare Victoria?

Project Hope Horse Welfare Victoria Inc. (PHHWV) is a non-profit organisation committed to providing hope for Victorian equines through education, rehabilitation and advocacy. PHHWV Inc. is a registered incorporated non-profit organisation. It is governed by a committee of management. PHHWV is tax exempt and all donations over $2 are tax deductible. PHHWV is run by volunteers and is self funded through memberships, donations and fundraising.

PHHWV Missions & Goals

- Throughout Victoria, whenever and wherever possible:
- To assist owners through education, assistance and advice to rehabilitate their own horses
- To provide emergency care, treatment and assistance to horses
- To rescue and rehabilitate any horse found abandoned, sick, injured or mistreated
- To find a suitable home for rehabilitated horses surrendered to PHHWV to, as far as possible, assures the horses' future well-being
- To educate the community on the plight of neglected horses
- To contribute to the development of improved government legislation and policy

Origins of Project Hope

PHHWV, originally known as Project Hope Horse Rescue first began in 1973 when a concerned Val Collingwood of Wallan, Victoria, wrote into RIDER magazine regarding the number of neglected horses in Australia.

She outlined a scheme whereby someone could co-ordinate the rescue and rehabilitation of these unfortunate animals and she suggested the name "Project Hope" in memory of a terribly neglected, supposedly aged, buck-jumper from Queensland. She had taken him home to try to save his life, giving him the name "Hope", although he had very little. He died three weeks later from massive worm infestation at the tender age of three. People responded to Val's letter, assuming that she was to be co-coordinator and the scheme became loosely organised on a district basis.

PHHWV grew until it became necessary to use newsletters for communication, to introduce memberships fees to help cover costs, and to draw up a constitution. With the help of a logo and media coverage, PHHWV became a familiar name in equine circles within Victoria.

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA PRESIDENTS REPORT

Sue manning the stand at Equitana 2014 with PHHWV VP Kathryn & fellow PHHWM Members Leanne & Kerry

Escalating calls for help made the year end busy - a 50% increase in calls, and widely varied locals worried for a horse, authorities 'Will you look after this horse?', and owners 'I cant cope, can you help me.'

We helped more owners with practical help this year, whether a bag of feed, vet advice, or a straight talk about what looking after a horse means.

Nevertheless more horses have come into PHHWV care. It is at this point that effective, no-frills rehabilitation, and a well developed practice approach to handling neglected or abused horses, helps time and again to turn a fearful, shut down horse into a rideable horse or companion. To help us to talk about what we do, we prepared what is proving a valuable resource in 'Practice Notes' – what our experienced workers look for when visiting a reported horse, what they see as important steps in rehabilitation. We thank the experienced workers who have documented this.

Now in this fourth decade, we are thankful for the heritage of Project Hope in both enduring members and a record of past work. Someone comes forward willing to help a horse, or to fund a need, because of what they have known of Project Hope, what it has done in the past.

Thank you for the hands-on willingness of members, new and old, to care for horses in their own homes. We seek always to do better, and we look forward to change and to what new members bring.

Through Facebook, the web, face to face, and in print, we speak about horse welfare standards. Whether in post-racing futures for horses, in regard to saleyards, or Australia's brumbies, we rely on members' wide experience and input. We believe their broadly-based day to day experience with horses is a significant contribution.

Sue Kirkegard – President PHHWV

- 50% increase in calls
- Increased advice and help to owners
- "Practice Notes" written on PHHWV care

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA DISASTER RELIEF

BUSHFIRE, DROUGHT & FLOOD

January 2015: Fires in the Adelaide Hills, South Australia took a great toll as they went through. The local networks mobilised, and whilst no horses were lost, many lost paddocks, feed and gear, and some horses had injuries and burns.

Members and friends of Project Hope, Triple R Equine Welfare, and Winged Horse bagged feed, summer rugs and consumables. A large truck delivered these with several hay rolls, to the SA equine groups in the Adelaide Hills.

A small return from Victorians to those who had helped us in earlier years, and well received.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

The 2014 -15 year as Secretary has been interesting, educative, confronting & heart-warming. The tireless work by members on & close to the committee of Project Hope is inspiring. The time & commitment given to run the organisation & to step in to assist horses & people in trauma is great to witness.

I thank the committee for their assistance while I struggled with the complexities of this role, and especially thank Courtney as Secretary's Assistant. She took on the Info@ line and its time commitment & has acquitted herself magnificently.

All requirements under the Australian Charities & Not-for-Profits Commission & the Department of Justice have been fulfilled. This year our electronic profile has been moved to an external website manager. We have also launched our Facebook site. I thank all for these initiatives to modernise our e-platform.

Thank you to all members of Project Hope Horse Welfare Victoria Inc. Whether you are just a member paying dues or you are active at the coalface your contribution is appreciated. The more we have to give, the better we can support all equines when required.

Keith Pattinson –Secretary PHHW

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA PHHWV HORSE REPORTS

2014 has been a busy year, with a sharp spike in people seeking our assistance. All of the PHHWV Representatives have been hard at work! I take this opportunity to say a huge thank you to our Project Hope Reps for all of your hard work, in a year of cases with large numbers of equines and also of difficult cases.

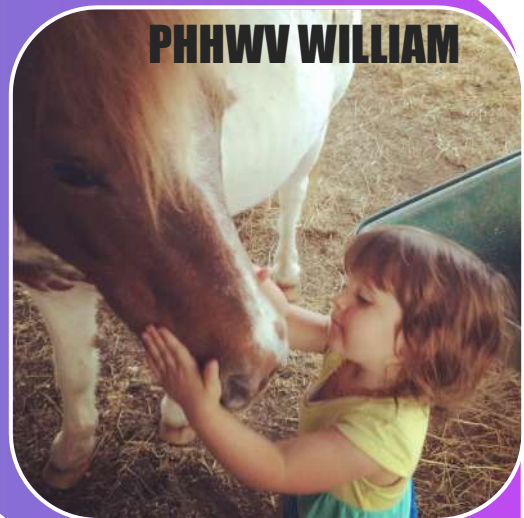

The numbers of horses in reports have risen this year. Ten reports were of mobs varying from a minimum number of 10 horses up to nearly 40 in one ongoing report. The numbers of callers simply seeking advice also rose. This I think is wonderful, and in this members as well as reps and committee have been more than willing to pass on our personal knowledge in keeping our horse and pony friends happy and healthy! Another theme that stuck with me was the rise in requests from local councils about surrendering horses to Project Hope.

Finally, the numbers of unhandled or 'uncatchable' horses were also noticeable, alongside the unfortunately usual reports of underweight horses.

Thankfully Victoria has seen no disaster, major or minor. However it was still a dry spring and summer, which led to the inevitable reports of skinny horses.

Katherine Wettstein - Horse Reports Coordinator PHHWV

- Horse reports: 112 (previous year: 74)
- 375 horses were reported
- 25 horses surrendered
- More advice to owners
- 8 cases were referred to the RSPCA
- 4 horses were euthanised

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA SHORT TERM CARE

2014 started with fifteen horses in short term care, including six newly acquired as a result of an RPSCA court action. Only three are still in rehabilitation or retraining, two from abused backgrounds. One is deceased. Six found a home after on the ground handling and retraining.

Twenty-five horses were surrendered during 2014. Eight needed significant veterinary attention, with both surgery work and home nursing care. We also had several surrenders of older stallions – even if they were only 3 feet high! Two groups were herds with older owners who realised their animals were being neglected - seven of these horses came into short-term care, three found local homes, and two were directly leased. Other horses were older thoroughbreds whose owners could not understand nor meet their care.

Lessees of seven PH horses asked if their horse could be rehomed; to date only two have come into short-term care.

Thirty-six members offered short-term care, three for several horses. Thank you to each one for opening their paddocks. They have given hours in treatment, in feeding programs and especially in handling to change behaviour and develop trust. They would say “We wouldn’t be doing anything else – the change in the horse is our reward”. We say thank you, for practical care in this way.

HORSES FINDING HOMES

Thirty three horses were rehomed, two moving from a ‘growing up’ home to their permanent home. Thanks to Lisa and Michelle for giving these young horses a good start, and Liz who took on PHHWV Spike to rear. Seven oldies found a home, and eleven ponies.

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA HORSES TAKEN INTO CARE

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA MEMBERS AT WORK

PHHWV MEMBER RACHEL

Rachel is the owner of a retail store during the day. "I'm a member because I want to help the horses, and being in a group you have more chance of doing something. I have helped in re-educating and rehoming horses, and floated horses when it's needed locally. I took 3 ponies to handle when PH helped the RSPCA, and found homes locally when they had settled down. I try to find the right person for each horse and keep in touch to see how they are going. I believe in giving back, even when I was young, I met people who helped horses."

PHHWV MEMBER LIZZIE

Lizzie rang PHHWV when she was looking for a young horse, as her mother had been a member from when she was only 6.

"I got Aurelia on the 22 January 2013 from Benalla. She was a pony from a herd rescued at Jeparit. She had some education, but once turned out she went back to her old habits. She was difficult to deal with at first but now we work together. Aurelia has helped me so much, which is why I help others (people & horses). I take people under my wing that have depression. She will love you and if you know what you are doing, Aurelia is the first horse out there. I'm giving back what she has given to me. She is currently being broken in and she's taking it all in her stride. Aurelia and myself are the perfect team together. What more could I ask for.

So thank you to project hope for giving me the chance to have Aurelia. I would take on another PHHWV horse in a heart beat."

PHHWV MEMBER SUE

I own a TB OTT who I love, but don't ride nearly enough. I have 10 acres, a son who plays sport, we work, and we are forever undertaking property improvements. I support Project Hope because I am a lover of horses. I simply don't have the time to do much but I can take a horse when I have a spare paddock. I love what PH stands for and what it achieves.

I had a few horses here after the fires, and helped feed some others that were poorly. Last year I collected a Shetland found on the roadside (and taken to the pound in the police car). A little man with a big personality - so I called him Elvis. He was an 8 yo stallion with VERY BAD manners to other horses, but fun to take for a walk. I suspected he'd been dumped, as few agistment properties will take stallions. We had him here a while, but no owner came forward. As he couldn't be paddocked with other horses, PHHWV found him a new home.

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA HORSES RECENTLY HOMED

PHHRV “PERI”

“Can you help me find agistment?” A country person called, desperate. Not on a good income, she had been using borrowed paddocks for years to care for a 16.2h TB she’d taken from the sales because she felt sorry for him. Maybe in earlier years it worked, but she had run out of options. Her current paddock had been sold. She cycled local areas without success.

PH used its member network. The horse was known, and was not in bad condition. Then the owner found a paddock, but couldn’t manage the horse to shift it. Then, as networks do, PH had another call. Others were helping supplementing feed or water when the owner had not appeared. They were frustrated at her varying attendance, and with practical care like a hoof crack not being attended to.

Given these details, Project Hope offered to take ‘Peri’. None were more relieved than the owner as she mostly wanted to make sure this horse was OK. Racing Victoria Off the Track program floated Peri to his new home.

Since then Peri has enjoyed early retirement in a herd cared for by Phil. His feet are improved and he is looking better than ever.

“PERI” Before & After

PHHWV “AMELDA”

“Stunning” was the first reaction to a little dun pony with a flaxen mane, however, when PHHWV met her, Amelda was 3yo, one of 3 quite unhandled little ponies. All had foundered. Amelda picked up with good care, but then became ‘boss’. This was not a good situation for her older carer. So PHHWV member Sharon, who had a little assertive 4 legged one, took on Amelda for strict handling. Amelda learned to respect humans. She took to being led and lunged, and coming when called. She became easier to handle, and later that year, was educated to be a ridden pony. Sharon and her family had bonded with Amelda – but they couldn’t keep her. Enter Cherie, and her 3 children. Newly on a farm, they met Amelda on Facebook - but had to wait to get fencing and for Amelda to make the long trip across town. Their first challenge was the founder that had reappeared. Cherie and her family set up a feed and exercise regime, and Amelda met her 3 new small owners. Since then, Amelda has been busier than ever with her new riders. The founder has been managed and kept at bay. Now she is being prepared for her first pony club outing - We hope a busy future awaits her!

THE STORY OF ONE Paddock

“There’s a skinny TB on XXX road”... a member noticed this and another horse, and so began a six month contact between Project Hope reps and some horse owners under stress. At first, we were met with “We’re OK”. As months past and the skinny horse remained skinny, we called again, saying it would be difficult to meet horses’ feed needs, and care for a family, on a limited budget.

Then a break through - a phone call. “We can’t manage, could you take our horse?” The skinny TB moved into PH care. Its mate, not surrendered, moved into a large grassy paddock. Whilst visiting we were asked to see horses owned by others. A mare and young foal worried our reps. The mare was eating bark, the foal was lethargic, our reps felt we had limited time to achieve change. Fortunately, the owners listened. They couldn’t easily get to the paddock, and money was given to others for feed that hadn’t arrived. Rep Leigh found agistment for them to look at nearer their home; we gave feed for the mare and foal, and asked them to clean the paddock (which they did). Later, PH shifted the mare and foal to agistment chosen by the owners. The chat in this move was fairly clear to the 18yo owner – you keep the feed up to this horse, keep it looking good and cared for, or we will be in touch. The young owner did visit daily, and recently mare and foal were doing OK.

Two other horses needed help. One was a family pet, but was now old and very skinny. The other was a mare that would not come to humans, again underweight, possibly pregnant. The family of the oldie had ill children amongst other stresses. At first they said they would feed it more. Over a month or so they were struggling, but kept in touch. Then, a call to ask PH to take their oldie – it would be better for the horse. Project Hope found a carer who just enjoys giving a home to an old horse. He now has no ribs showing. He knows feed time, and is not backward at rattling his feed bucket!

Rep Kerryn was picking up the oldie – as she passed the paddock of the frightened mare, its head (with halter on) popped over to look. Quickly, she clipped on the lead. Half an hour later, this mare was loaded and on her way to PH care. On the way, a visit to a vet, and pregnancy was ruled out. Living at first in a stable and round yard, she became used to humans. Then loading with little fuss, she went to short-term care to gain weight and find a home as a companion mare.

EQUITANA 20th-23rd NOVEMBER 2014

Equitana again was a great opportunity for Project Hope to spread news of our work. Our stall was busy and a buzz of excitement could be felt - its all about the horses. Project Hope's new signage looked great - and new polo shirts had their first outing!

The thirty or so members volunteered to be there with the Project Hope message - to get more support to help more horses that otherwise would be leading a miserable painful existence.

Many had heard of us but some were not clear about what we did. Others did not know that they could help. We talked more than sold goods, but there was a steady stream into the donation box, and our volunteers never stopped talking to someone about 'Project Hope'.

TALKING TO STUDENTS

PH member Dr Lesley Hawson spoke with University High students in February 2015. The students were on a program looking at the humanitarian challenges in our society. Lesley discussed the challenges involved in welfare of horses including difficult issues such as euthanasia and wastage from the racing industry.

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA COMMUNITY & EVENTS

OUT & ABOUT

Alexandra Show – November 2014 – member Helen and PHHWV Captain Hook showed off what PHHWV can do for horses and gave out information on PHHWV. Captain Hook showed how he had changed from a grumpy laminitic horse to his current friendly self. Thanks to Helen for raising PHHWV profile.

Kilmore Show – December 2014 – Captain Hook again starred, with Helen, Rose and Noelle in support, giving out information and telling our story. Captain Hook had his time with the Show Clown!

Lowdens Beyer Show – December 2014 – PHHWV Chester was the star for Project Hope. PH members Tania and Noelle handed out leaflets to families there to see the displays.

PHHWV RUGS

In 2014, Project Hope supplied rugs to 6 PHHWV horses, to show off PHHWV whenever they were at clubs, events, and shows. This is the start - we hope to expand this program in future.

HORSE RESCUE by Joanne Schoenwald

“Inspiring stories of second chance horses and the lives they changed” Penguin Books, 2014
PHHWV Ticketty Boo had his story published in this book in 2014.

“The journey of PHHWV Ticketty Boo from abused frightened pony to his forever home with Jennah is a great read. Sold by a stud in the time of the equine flu scare, abused by ignorant owners, seized by a local council, coming into Project Hope care, and finding his rehab carer Jenny and finally his forever home with Jennah.... If you haven't read his story, maybe you should!” Sue Kirkegard, PHHWV.

PROJECT HOPE HORSE WELFARE VICTORIA TREASURERS REPORT

You will find a fully detailed income and expenditure statement in the attached auditors report for the 2014 / 2015 financial year. In summary the report shows our income as $ 66,166.92 and our expenses as $ 66,896.25 resulting in an operating loss for the financial year of $ 759.77.

Generally income and expenses were in line with budgeted expectations and no extra ordinary income or expense was experienced.

Membership revenue of $15,780.00 represents a total of 351 new and renewing members, which is in line with our membership base of 378 as at 28th February 2015. Membership revenue at $15,780.00 represents a 28% increase on the previous financial year. We received financial donations totaling $ 34,770.04. This is an increase of 54% on the previous year.

Expenses were in line with the previous financial year so the net effect of increased income and static expenses resulted in a break even position for the year as opposed to a loss the previous year. Financial donations were received from the below individuals, groups and clubs.

Rafki's Story

Rafki was a foal, rescued from the notorious Kyneton case, to which both Project Hope and the RSPCA attended after reports were made of emancipated looking horses being kept on the property.

Over 40 horses, combining of mares, stallions and foals were found in horrific conditions. Many had already died, others were in too poor a condition and had to be euthanased. The owner surrendered several of the remaining horses to Project Hope where they were placed with ...

Meeting Bart

Its hard to think that this horse raced and won almost 28K...

His later years are unknown, until he and his paddock mate became pony club mounts. One year later the teenagers were not at Pony club any more. ... See More

In January 2015, Project Hope Horse Welfare relaunched its Facebook presence (last used – 2009):

Our relaunched Facebook page is growing consistently with a range of stories and information about PHHWV events, our members and most importantly the horses we are helping, with fabulous photos and some videos to interest a wide audience. We have over 2,225 likes of our page so let's continue spreading Project Hope's important message. PHHWV Dakota is our pin-up boy in the cover photo at the moment.

Meeting Frankie

Frankie a 11hh Welsh mountain pony was in a herd reported to Project Hope as another little pony had slipper feet. Their carer was losing her property. Frankie and the neglected pony came into Project Hope care and homes were found for the other ponies.

Frankie was friendly but had lived in a small yard. At 4yo he was still an entire and did not know how to be caught, lead or tie up. ... See More
